

TRUE VELOCITY™

PRESS RELEASE

TRUE VELOCITY NAMES CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

August 10, 2020

GARLAND, TX – True Velocity named aerospace and defense industry veteran Jim Stephens as its chief operating officer on Monday, rounding out the Texas-based technology company's executive leadership team.

Stephens joins True Velocity following an 18-year career in operations management and business development leadership at a Fortune 200 corporation serving industrial, aerospace and defense customers. During the course of his previous tenure, Stephens led multiple business transformations, acquisition integrations and large program capture teams.

"We're excited to round out our leadership with the addition of Jim as COO," said True Velocity Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Kevin Boscamp. "Jim's passion for team building and sustaining operational excellence will serve our company well in the years ahead."

A 1995 graduate of the United States Military Academy at West Point, Stephens served as an Artillery Officer in the U.S. Army.

---

ABOUT TRUE VELOCITY

True Velocity is an advanced technology company focused on the manufacture of superior composite-cased ammunition. Currently offered in a strategic range of calibers to meet defense, law enforcement and other applications, True Velocity's premium composite-cased ammunition offers distinct advantages over conventional brass-cased munitions, including drastic weight reduction, heat signature elimination and significantly improved accuracy.

Media Contact

Patrick Hogan // ph: (972) 905-0747 // phogan@tvammo.com

For more information on True Velocity, Inc., please visit <http://www.tvammo.com>